Dear AMLI members,

Summer is here and I hope you are all enjoying the warm weather!

Annual Meeting:

We are a few weeks away from the annual AMLI meeting. If you have not registered yet, please do so. The scientific affairs committee has organized an exciting and interactive program that covers a wide variety of topics. Details for the annual meeting program can be found at: https://www.amli.org/2019-annual-meeting/meetings_2019_program-2-2/. We look forward to seeing all of you at the meeting; it is an excellent forum to gather information on the latest updates in diagnostic laboratory immunology, to network with colleagues, meet with our industry partners and document those much-needed continuing education credits!

Website:

Thanks to the efforts of Jeff Rossio and Maggie Fogel, the AMLI website has a new look. We would appreciate feedback from our members regarding ease of navigation through the website, content, access to resources for members, and any other suggestions you may have. Please send suggestions to maggie@maggiefogel.com.

Upcoming meetings of interest:

American Association for Clinical Chemistry: <https://www.aacc.org/>

International Clinical Cytometry Society:

We look forward to seeing you in Cleveland, OH!
