

AML

the Association of Medical Laboratory Immunologists

Dear all,

We are happy to announce that AMLI will be introducing the AMLI ListServ. The purpose of this Listserv is to foster discussions (share knowledge, seek suggestions or exchange ideas) among members on the diagnostic clinical immunology field, important matters related to the lab medicine field and timely topics. AMLI Listserv is intended for distributing relevant, topic-related information that the list members as a group might benefit from sharing. The AMLI org. reserves the right to modify these Listserv Rules and Etiquette Guidelines at any time without notice.

Any member or friend of the AMLI who wants to be on the AMLI listserv-distribution list, must follow the AMLI Listserv Rules and Etiquette Guidelines. Therefore, please read through the attached guidelines and based on your decision please check one of the boxes below (e.g. type:"X" in front of your chosen option) and provide your email address if you wish to be on the AMLI ListServ.

I acknowledge that I have read all the guidelines. I will follow these rules and wish to be on the AMLI distribution list. Please use my email below for the distribution list.

I don't wish to be on the AMLI distribution list. I don't wish to be on the AMLI distribution list.

NOTE: Please send your email responses directly to the following:

Kevin Goudy (Listserv Administrator)

Email: kgoudy@csilaboratories.com

Sara Nandiwada (Listserv Team Member)
